Later news from Paris brings atl far the fall and winter season. First observes a fashion critic, we are al wars confronted with a bewildering display of varied fashlons, and the trick is to keep our heads until we see exactly what is going to stand the of time and selection and judg-

There are a few canny ones who can sense this thing, but they are very few and far between. The others stand arrend and fear that, before long, we may all be dressing in Spanish regalia or trailing our skirts along the streets Usually there bappons a happy medi which is quite thoroughly satis as not revolutionize the ways of dress so completely as may have been

So with two modes which are after the scanon creations fresh from Paris They are about as unstartling as any two fashions could be, and, on the who issumes could be, and, on the other hand, they are just about as sweet as could be hoped for. After all, it is simplicity that counts in the long ran. The French always come leach to that standard, no matter what may be their little excursions into the the are more cluttered ers.

they are simply and quietly length ened, with every attention given to propertion and the blending of one with another, until there results that harmony which is always satis-fring and which, authoritatively ban-fied, is becoming to whatever figure Empress to wear it Hedles That Are Simple A cable from Paris, about the opening of the collection of Madeleine Vienet, suys that all of her models are as simple as can be, and that they follow rather closely the lines laid any starting change there. Vionet the conteriors who has been most incily exclusive in showing her de makes her models for the ior may eiremastances, to admit to hades may exceemstances, to admit to her establishment any buyer from the hade. And the consequence is that her powers here sought above all oth the first time is some assurance then had then will not be copied and al-med and distributed to every portion see in that direction.

Poiret's collection in this country is causing quite a furor, because it is so decidedly different from maything clee that has been shown here. He

TWO GAMES IN "Y" LEAGUE MARK BEGINNING OF LOCAL FLOOR SEASON; OTHER DOPE

Basketball season opened in Con-9 nellsville with two games last night at the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A. High School May nellayille with two games hast night at the Baltimore & Ohlo Y. M. C. A. The Eaptists and Methodists were the first to clash and the latter came out victorious. The M. E. crowd showed a little better foul shooting ability than did the Baptists and it was this that resulted in the final count for game. The score was 31-29. The game was a hard-fought one and was a fitting start to a season which ought to be full of speed contests.

The Baltimore & Ohlo Clerks got by with their game by a breath. The team defeated the Fayette Buking company by one point in an extra five-minute period of play. When the regular playing time had elapsed the score was 25-25 and in the extra five minutes the clerks made two fouls to one for the Bakers.

The game was alceptionally hard

Just before the Donnelly-Carter cout took place at the Fayette Athletic club's show last Thursday night, fohnny King, who knocked out 'Buck Crouse in the second frame of their tet-to, wanted to post a $50 forfelt and trrange a $500 side bet that he could defeat the winner Most fans considored this a rather rash claim, coming one it did from a youngster who has barely gotten started in the ring Last night Matchmaker Duke Barry arranged a fight that will either make Arranged a fight that will either make King a real ringster or set him back it the beginning. He has matched the Parette City boy with Johnny Ward of Rickessport at Slavish hall December 16. Local fans know what Ward can to, having seen him perform with Charley Dunn at shows here It means Ring is meeting about the hardest at first base, clasing the American Iting is meeting about the haidest proposition Barry could fasten on to him. It will give the fans an insight of King's real fighting ability and will also determine whether or not the side bet of $500 offered for a match with either Donnelly or Carter would have been a safe investment.

Manuscript Throws Important Light on Colonel's Early Life.

'ORGANIZED RANCH OWNERS

Minutes of First Mosting of Little Missouri River Stockmen's Association, Written in Hand of Roosevelt in 1884, Comes to Light-Manuscript Found on Little Farm in Montana.... Colonel First to See Need of Organizing Law-Abiding Forces.

New and important light was thrown on the career of Treodors Roosevelt when the Roosevelt Temorial associa-tion in New York announced the gift of a seven-page manuscript in Colonol Roosevelt's hand, written in 1884. The manuscript is the gift of Joseph A. Ferris of Terry, Mont., who was a storekeeper in Medora, N. D., where Roosevelt was a ranchman in the adjacent bad lands.

The manuscript is historically of the greatest importance. It contains the minutes of the first meeting of the Little Missouri River Stockmen's association, and reveals the fact that this meeting of what was, in effect, a vigilance committee and the first law-and-order body in the western Dakotus was called to order by Roosevelt and that its first action was to elect him chairman. The meeting was held in Medora on December 19, 1884, and was attended by the most influential ranchmen of the region. numbering a dozen.

Found on a Montana Farm. The manuscript came to the Memorial association as a result of its at the expense of the association as efforts to collect material concerning a test case. Colonel Roosevelt, Herman Hagedorn, director of the association's bureau of search, came upon it in a little farm in Montana a year ago in the course of a journey through the Rousevelt country in search of material for a book on Rossevelt's ranching days, but it was only in response to the give at least one week's notice there-association's recent appeal for Rossevelt material that this manuscript "Resolved, That the representation of the control of the representation of the repre was actually presented.

"The discovery of this manuscript and of the story that ites behind it." said Mr. Hagedorn in discussing the said Mr. Hagedorn in discussing the gift, "shows dramatically the value of the association's activities in gathering what President Harding has called the records and mementon of a great life." There never was a man more written about in the world's history than Roosevelt, but a month's researches on his old stampling grounds in the bad lands showed me that the roundup; and the actual story of his cowboy days had actual story of his cowboy days had not even been binted at. "It was Roosevelt who saw the need of organizing the law-abiding forces in the region, and it was Roosevelt who rode from ranch to ranch in the sead of winter with no companion examples of winter with no companion examples to persuade the season of winter with no companion examples.

Rules for Branding Caives. copt 'Bill' Sewall, to persuade the ranchmen to co-operate. He was practically the youngest among them, barrely twenty-six, but he succeeded in winning their coulddence. The organisation was formed and Roosevell was made its beed. It was an important made its head. It was an important, stabilizing influence, for it chased the dear of God into the horse and cattle thieves in what was generally regarded as the roughest region between the Canadian border and the Gulf of
